

Are you my reader?

By Holly Lisle

Not everyone is.

- You're my reader if you love real heroes struggling to do what's right against overwhelming odds...
- You're my reader if you believe there's a difference between right and wrong, and you'd rather cheer for the characters who are fighting to do things right...
- You're my reader if you love stories where one person can beat the odds and make a difference...
- You're my reader if you value creation over destruction...
- You're my reader if you love characters in high-tech worlds where the tech goes wrong more often than it goes right, and the solution to wrecked tech is not bigger tech, but better thinking...
- You're my reader if you love fantasy in high-magic worlds, where magic is the problem way more often than it's the solution, and where the rules of magic make sense, can't be broken with the wave of a magic wand, and always have consequences...
- You're my reader if you love the shiver you get when you look into the twilight, and the unknown looks back...
- You're my reader if you know love matters, and if you have ever thought about another human being, "I would walk through fire without an instant's hesitation to save you..."

If you're my reader, welcome. I have a lot of stories to tell you.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Holly". The letters are cursive and connected, with a long vertical stroke extending downwards from the end of the word.
