

Different faces

By Holly Lisle

Today was Baanraak and Pete, with some nice twists. Last night went pretty well – wrote another complete replacement scene, and started into the modification of the scene I worked on today.

I had to pull out another 3,000 words. So the book is still hovering just over 101,000 words, in spite of the fact that I've written a zillion new ones the last few days. The “two steps forward, two steps back” routine gets old. I'd like to see some numbers adding up to reflect all the work I'm doing. My only visible sign of progress is the decreasing size of the stack of pages at my left.
