Facebook Hacker Crime Update

I reported the hacking of my Facebook account to the FBI.

I ALSO received a notice from Facebook that my account was blocked because I'd posted porn. Considering I'm the person who requested my account be blocked because I was hacked, I'm very unhappy with Facebook's clueless handling of this issue, and not sure I'll be able to get my account reopened—or that I want it reopened.

I'll see what happens, but so far I could not be less impressed with Facebook's security or problem-handling.
