The stressful family crisis finally resolved last night, and I feel like I can breathe again for the first time in a weeks. No guarantees that everything will stay all right, but they're good for now, and that will have to be good enough. Since this involves me only as the mom, not as one of the parties involved, I won't go into more details. For those of you who offered encouragement and prayers on such vague information, my thanks. The problem was huge, and its resolution is equally so.
