

I'm fundraising with writer T-shirts

People have been asking me for T-shirts for ages. I kept trying to over-complicate the process, (trying to get names for the entire first HTTS graduating class to put on the shirt, for example).

The shirts just never got done.

Break to today. There are T-shirts. Limited-time only (there's a reason, and I'll get to it). They have the stunning logo Kirsten Bolta designed for me on them.

They'll be available until Jan. 14th. TeeSpring has a little timer under the "Reserve Your Shirt" button to let you know how long you have left.

They come in multiple colors, in

lots of sizes.

Here's why
I put them
together
today.

I have three painful
areas on the right side of my tongue. I

have to go in to see
my doc on the 11th.
Up to this point,
every time I've
pointed out a
painful area on my
tongue, it has
proven to be
dysplasia.

This might be the
time that I go in

and he says, “No,
everything looks
great.” I hope it
is.

But I cannot plan my life on hope.

He told me on my
last post-op checkup
that we were not
going to be able to do any more tissue

removal in the
office with just
local anesthesia. If he had to cut
anything else out,
it was going to have
to be done in a
hospital, and it was going to require the use of a laser. And
because I'm an adult

about these things
and he's a good doc,
he told me the laser
was going to leave
me in a lot of pain
for a month rather
than a week.

Hospitals,
anesthesia, and
lasers cost a lot
more money than a

numbing shot in the
jaw and in-office
surgery. Last year
wasn't great for me.
And I have
catastrophic
insurance, which
means I have to spend a LOT of money
before the insurance
kicks in.

So .

T-shirts . They might not be necessary . It
would be wonderful
if they weren't .

But the great thing
about T-shirts,
hoodies, and
baseball shirts is
they're still

wearable (and cool)
if I turn out to be
just paranoid (albeit justifiably).

If you like the
shirt, click the
image, and use the
dropdown menu to get
the shirt you want.

And thanks. I hope
this is just me
finally delivering
on the promise of T-
shirts.
