

It was hard coming back. 803 words net, and a lot of bloody fixing

By Holly Lisle

I read through last Thursday's pages, where they'd had a good long time to cool.

The mistakes were clear, as were the things I had to show as important.

So I've been working for four hours, have done nothing else since I got up, and what I have is better... but I didn't come close to getting the 1250 words I'd hoped for.

It was a good enough day, even if I still feel like crap.

I know I wrote well over my objective word count. With all the deletions and fixes, though, I don't have that much to show for it.
