

LONGVIEW revision is done! Starting type-in.

By Holly Lisle

The series matrix worked well, I got an ending I'm much happier with, and revised all 60 pages yesterday and today.

So now I'll do type-in, and hand the whole thing off to Matt for content editing when it's done.

And then I'll build out the rest of HTWAS Expansion Module 1.

Rather than beta the story, I'm trying out a pro editor for this. If it works out, I'll do the rest of my short fiction this way.

Beta testing is way too useful for long fiction, though. So I'll probably keep that step even if I decide to add this editor as my final pre-formatting step in getting my work out.

Will let you know how it goes.
