

Merry Christmas

By Holly Lisle

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

My wish for you, however you celebrate this season, is time spent with people you love and friends who love you; with good food, good conversation, and good memories. And if that's not possible, then that you have the joy of each breath, the warmth of contentment, and the knowledge that you matter.

I'll be back a little before the New Year. In the meantime, be well, and thank you for sharing this past year with me.
