Nearly Done with Step A

I have the finished version of the outline for the latest Onyx proposal just about in the can. Finally had a really good writing day un-plagued by migraines. So I'll print this off and have Matt go over it over the weekend, and do a mop-up run through it Monday before I send it off. But I think I've managed to compress the million variables I had to successfully hit into a mere twenty pages.

If Claire likes the outline, I'll do the first stack of pages so that my publisher can get a look at them and get a feel for what I want to do so that we can go to contract.

I like this. It has treasure, the tropics, a couple of hot guys, a ghost, and deadly danger. I think this one's a keeper.
