

Special thanks to Margaret Fisk

By Holly Lisle

Margaret did the progress bar program over at FM, and at my request, (I begged, because it was so cool), created a single-user copy for me. Graphic representation of my progress on the current novel is continually updated in the progress bar to the right. Seafox, by the way, is the new working title for Riknir, my follow-up book for Tor. I probably won't stick with that title either, but it'll do as a working title.

Huge thanks to Margaret, who put in considerable time getting this to work.
