Ask your questions about this upcoming weekend's site move here.

Here are the ones I already have answers for:

- When will you shut down the forum and shop purchasing?
Friday evening at 10 PM.
- Will we be able to buy without using PayPal when the new site is up?
Yes. I'll have both Stripe and Authorize.net.
- How will I sign into my account on the new site the first time?
Type your email address or username into the "Lost Password" box (I'll send out the link and post it here when it's time). Create a new—or recreate your old—password, then sign in. Passwords will NOT transfer, so you'll need to recreate them.

Heres' the one I don't have the answer for:

- How long will the site be unavailable?
It could be offline for a few hours, or until late at night Sunday 22nd. Even if we don't have everything done, however, it will be up Monday morning ET. I have my triage list of what HAS to be done before we can take it live, and that will be done first.

You may end up reporting bugs for a while after that while we shake down the rest.
