

Trying more technology

By Holly Lisle

Well, my people are arguing in a hall, and I'm trying not to find some excuse to kill them all, which would be a quick and unfortunate end to what's supposed to be a fairly long interlinked series.

So I'm trying out the Blog This! right-click pop up menu. If it works, it'll automatically update my log without me having to go into the Blogger site. And wouldn't that be convenient. But I'm not exactly flying on the writing. 2044 words, but I've been at this since 1:30 PM. Argh.
